Experience

2024 – 2026

Healthee

Product design lead

- Owned the end-to-end user experience for Healthee's decision-support tool, a core growth product, partnering with Product and Engineering to evolve the experience and deliver on user and business goals.
- Drove complex product initiatives from discovery and definition through design and launch, including major redesigns, new features, and expansion into additional employee benefit experiences.
- Applied user research and product performance insights to identify opportunities, validate design solutions, and continuously improve key product experiences.
- Partnered with Sales to translate the product roadmap into tailored, interactive demos for prospective customers, using AI-powered, code-based prototypes to bring planned capabilities to life.
- Collaborated with Product and Engineering leadership on product direction, priorities, and execution, translating business objectives and user needs into effective product experiences.
- Helped guide and develop the design team, driving design quality, leading design reviews, supporting designers through complex challenges, and owning critical cross-team initiatives.

Nov 2017 – Sep 2024

Designit

Dec 2021 – Sep 2024
